PITTARURG. April 18 -- Herbert C. Hoover, discussing the Food Administration at the annual banquet of the Pittsburg Press Club here to-night, said that the Government, has developed no principle of price fixing as a broad economic policy. "We are dealing with conditions and not with theories," said Mr. Hoover. Other speakers at the banquet were Stephane Laumanne of Paris, editor of Le Matm, and Melville E. Stone, general manager of the Associated Press. Mr. Hoover explained in detail the world wide condition which made the Food Administration necessary and mid that discussion throughout the country over price stabilisation by the Government is partly academic, partly misinformed and most of it without any knowledge or admission of the sconomic dislocations imposed by the war.
